

- Can the foods you eat affect the way you feel? Of course. That's why many people are serving their families lean meats, fish for salad and coffee without caffeine, Sanka brand decaffeinated coffee. In fact last year, many doctors recommended Sanka brand, by name, to almost 4 million caffeine-concerned Americans like me. It's a hundred percent real coffee. And after you take in that hearty aroma and full fresh flavor, you'll wonder what's all the fuss about the caffeine being gone? I love the taste. And now that I'm drinking Sanka brand, there's no caffeine to make me nervous or tense and I really feel good. Yes, I think it's a good thing that people are more concerned about what they eat and drink without having to sacrifice good taste. Sanka brand decaffeinated coffee, it's the coffee you can feel good about.